Introducing the ThinkPad X1 Fold
The world's first foldable PC

It doesn't get more revolutionary than this.

Fold it like a book. Lay it flat for a gorgeous 13.3" OLED display. This compact device promises to forever change the way you work, play, create, and connect.

Explore our story

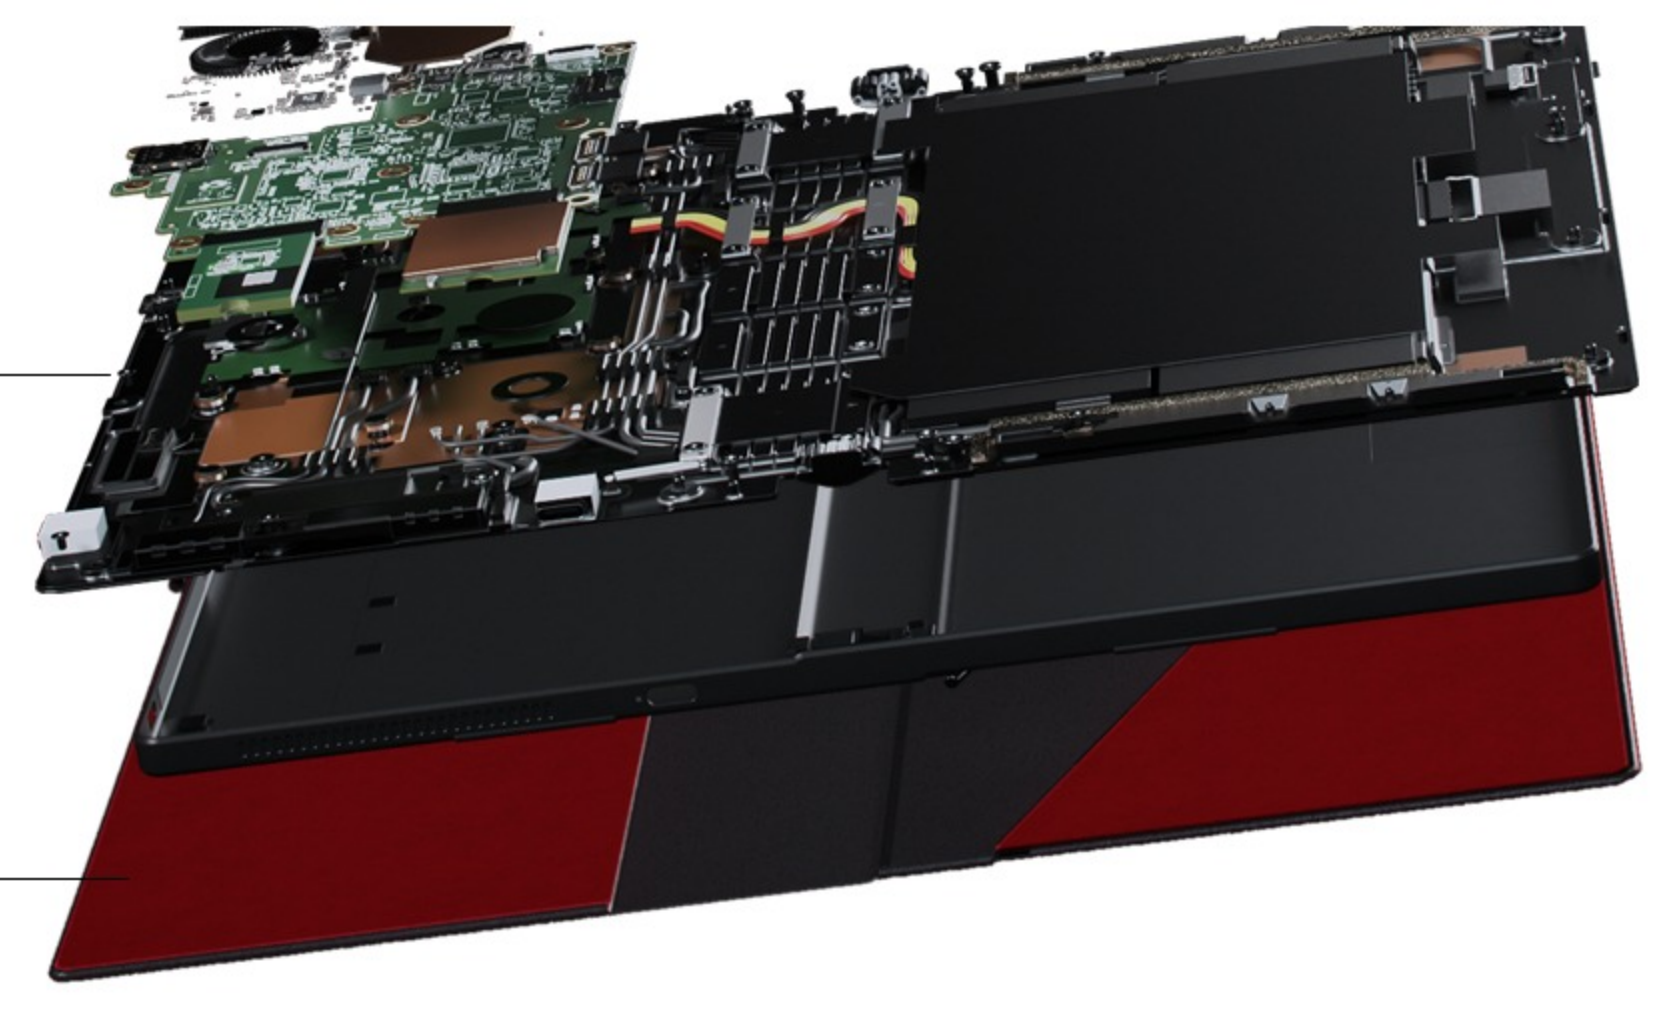

It's one thing to dream it. And another to make that dream a reality.

To address the innovation required to produce a practical folding device, our engineers had to overcome mechanical, electrical, and structural challenges. The prototype only needed to show that the concept worked. But to be a ThinkPad design, it needed to be driven by user experience while encompassing our legacy of durability.

Relentless innovation. Trusted quality. Purposeful design.

Customized motherboard fits space constraints & delivers powerful performance

The world's first folding 13.3" OLED display delivers a wide color range, high contrast & brightness, & low power consumption

Heat spreader (1 of 3) distributes the heat generated from internal components to create ideal temperature throughout

Leather folio provides a stylish look & a functional design element, as it includes a stand for positioning the X1 Fold upright

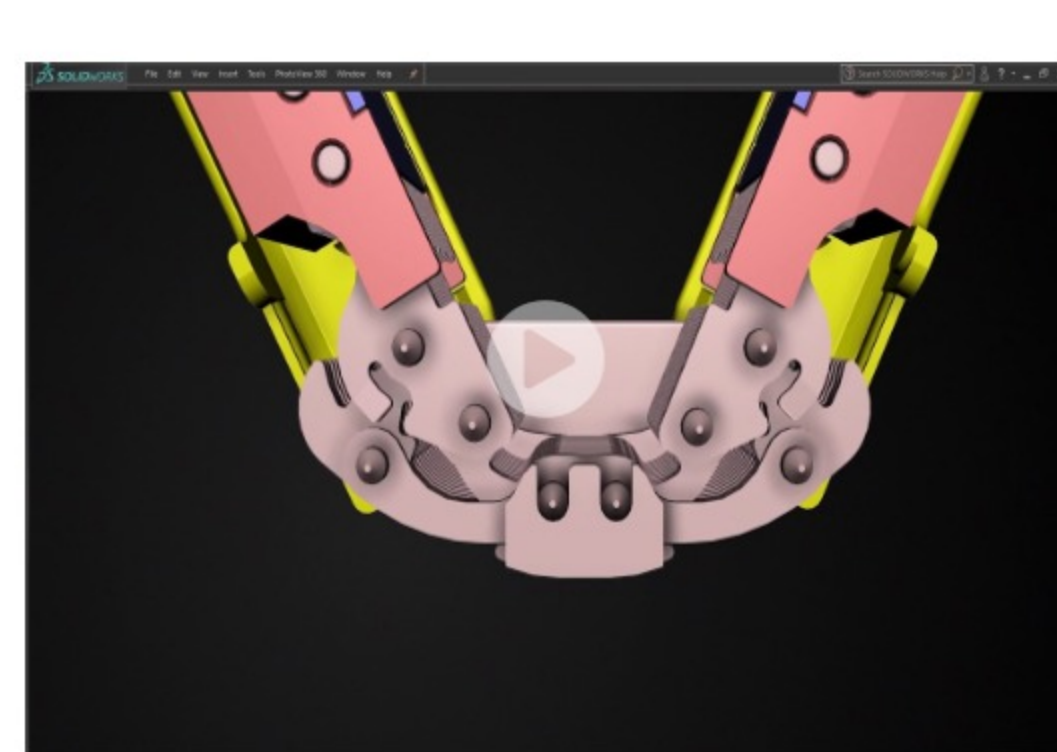

Carry small. Use big.

Whether you're a technology trendsetter, or someone whose busy schedule requires a highly mobile device that's always up and running, the ThinkPad X1 Fold adapts to you. Discover a split-screen laptop that brings new and exciting ways to interact with a PC. Create, connect, collaborate, and stay entertained with twice the screen—an Intel® Core™ processor with Intel hybrid technology delivers full PC performance for all of it.
